Mini Stories

Story 1: The First Choice

Characters: Woman, Serpent, Narrator

Narrator: Long ago, in a beautiful garden, a woman lived among trees filled with good fruit.

Serpent: Did Elohim really say you could not eat from that tree?

Woman: He told us not to eat from it or we would die.

Serpent: You will not surely die. You will become wise.

Narrator: The woman looked at the fruit. It seemed good and beautiful.

Woman: Maybe just one bite.
(Pretends to eat fruit.)

Narrator: She shared it with her husband, and everything changed. Sin entered the world, but Yahuah also promised that one day a Deliverer would come.

Question: Who was this woman?

Story 2: The Long Journey and The Camel Caravan

Characters: Woman, Serpent, Narrator

Narrator: Long ago, in a beautiful garden, a woman lived among trees filled with good fruit.

Serpent: Did Elohim really say you could not eat from that tree?

Woman: He told us not to eat from it or we would die.

Serpent: You will not surely die. You will become wise.

Narrator: The woman looked at the fruit. It seemed good and beautiful.

Woman: Maybe just one bite.
(Pretends to eat fruit.)

Narrator: She shared it with her husband, and everything changed. Sin entered the world, but Yahuah also promised that one day a Deliverer would come.

Question: Who was this woman?

Story 3: The Impossible Promise

Characters: Husband, Wife, Messenger, Narrator

Messenger: Next year you will have a son.

Wife: (Laughs quietly.) I'm far too old for that!

Narrator: For many years she had waited and hoped for a child.

Messenger: Is anything too hard for Yahuah?

Narrator: Just as Yahuah promised, a son was born.

Husband: Let us rejoice!

Question: Who was this woman?

Story 4: Sisters and Shepherds

Characters: Older Sister, Younger Sister, Husband, Narrator

Narrator: Two sisters lived in the same household.

Younger Sister: I am loved, but I have no children.

Older Sister: I have children, but I wish I were loved more.

Narrator: Both sisters struggled with sadness and jealousy.

Older Sister: Yahuah has seen my trouble.

Younger Sister: Yahuah, remember me.

Narrator: In time, Yahuah blessed the younger sister with sons as well. Together these sisters became mothers of tribes of Yisrael.

Question: Who were these sisters?

Mother: Quickly! Place him in this basket.

Narrator: The baby's sister watched from a distance.

Princess: Look! A baby!

Sister: Shall I find someone to care for him?

Narrator: The child grew up and later became a great leader.

(Time passes.)

Wife: I left my family and journeyed through the wilderness with my husband.

Narrator: One woman helped save her baby brother. Another stood beside that same man as his wife.

Question: Who were these two women?

Story 7: Where You Go, I Will Go

Characters: Mother-in-law, Young Widow, Narrator

Narrator: A woman lost her husband and her sons while living in a foreign land.

Mother-in-law: Return to your people.

Young Widow: No. I will stay with you.

Mother-in-law: You do not have to come.

Young Widow: Where you go, I will go. Your people will be my people.

Narrator: Together they returned to Bethlehem.

(Pretends to gather grain.)

Narrator: Yahuah provided for them through a kind man, and the younger woman became part of the family line that led to King David.

Question: Who were these two women?

Story 6: The Palm Tree Judge

Characters: Judge, Warrior, Narrator

Narrator: The people came to a wise woman for judgment.

(She sits beneath a tree.)

Judge: Yahuah commands you to gather an army.

Warrior: I will go only if you come with me.

Judge: I will go.

Narrator: Yahuah gave victory to Yisrael.

Warrior: We have won!

Judge: Praise Yahuah, who delivered His people.

Narrator: She was both a prophetess and a judge.

Question: Who was this woman?
